This USDA-DHIA Sire Summary List contains the most recent estimates of transmitting ability for milk and fat yield, fat percent, and income of bulls evaluated during the sire summary runs in the fall of 1974 and the spring of 1975.

The genetic evaluations are based on yield information on the bulls' daughters which are located in herds participating in the Official Dairy Herd Improvement and Dairy Herd Improvement Registry recordkeeping plans. The information used is obtained by the USDA's Agricultural Research Service (ARS) from Dairy Herd Improvement Associations (DHIA's) that are affiliated with the National Cooperative Dairy Herd Improvement Program.

The USDA-DHIA Sire Summary List is published annually by ARS following the spring sire summary run. Since it is an annual publication, no general mailing list is maintained. Dairymen and other interested persons can obtain a copy, as long as supplies last, by contacting the extension dairyman advising on dairy cattle breeding at the Agricultural University in their State (see page xiv) or by writing to the Animal Improvement Programs Laboratory, Building 263, BARC-East, Beltsville, Maryland 20705. There is no charge for the publication.

USDA-DHIA SIRE SUMMARY LIST, SPRING 1975
Containing Sire Summaries for Ayrshire, Guernsey, Holstein, Jersey, Brown Swiss
Milking Shorthorn, and Red Dane Sires

By Frank N. Dickinson, H. Duane Norman, Gerald J. King, and Rex L. Powell 1/

INTRODUCTION

This USDA-DHIA Sire Summary List contains information for 719 Ayrshire, 3,285 Guernsey, 18,391 Holstein, 2,772 Jersey, 856 Brown Swiss, 186 Milking Shorthorn, and 5 Red Dane sires. All sire summaries were calculated by the USDA-DHIA Modified Contemporary Comparison.

Both records-in-progress (RIP's) and completed lactation records are utilized in the sire summaries. RIP's must have at least 40 days in milk to be included in the sire summary calculations.

A sire summary is compiled for a sire when 10 or more of his daughters have lactation data and herdmate records reported. Sires in the following categories are summarized in this publication:

(1) Those for which sufficient information was available for the first time.
(2) Those reported to be active in artificial insemination on January 1, 1975, or later.
(3) Those for which enough additional information was available to warrant a resummary.
(4) Those for which special requests for summaries were received.

All available lactation records for a bull's daughters and their herdmates were utilized. All records, both completed records and RIP's, were standardized to a twice-a-day milking, 305-day, mature equivalent basis (2X, 305-day, ME). Lactations made on three- or four-times-a-day milking were standardized to a twice-a-day (2X) basis with Kendrick's factors, published in ARS 52-1, January 1955, and more recently in the January-February 1972 Dairy Herd Improvement Letter, ARS 44-239. Incomplete lactation records were projected to a 305-day basis by factors that take into account breed, age, milk, and fat if they were in progress or if they were reported as having been terminated for the following reasons:

1/ Respectively, chief, Animal Improvement Programs Laboratory (AIPL), research animal scientist (genetics), dairy husbandman, and research geneticist (animal), Animal Physiology and Genetics Institute, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Agricultural Research Service, Beltsville, MD 20705.

(1) At least one valid test followed by two consecutive missed tests.
(2) Cow sold from the herd, but not into a herd on official test.
(3) Cow died during lactation.
(4) Lactation ended by an abortion.

The projection factors used were published in the August 1965 Dairy Herd Improvement Letter, ARS 44-164. The age and month-of-calving adjustment factors that were used in standardizing these records to ME considered the effects of breed and geographical region of the United States. They were published in ARS-NE-40, September 1974.

In compiling summaries, records that were deleted and not used were:

(1) Those coded as complete but less than 180 days in length.
(2) Those coded as incomplete but less than 15 days in length.
(3) Those estimated for two or more consecutive test periods.
(4) Those initiated by abortion.
(5) Those that had no herdmates in 5-month moving season.

Calculation of the Sire Summaries

The USDA-DHIA Sire Summaries contained herein have all been calculated by using the USDA-DHIA Modified Contemporary Comparison (MCC). The MCC was adopted to replace the former USDA-DHIA Herdmate Comparison in order to increase the accuracy of both sire summaries and cow indexes. The MCC eliminates the need to make several important assumptions that were underlying the Herdmate Comparison. It also does a superior job of accounting for important sources of genetic and environmental variation that could cause biases in genetic evaluations. The background and methodology used in the MCC are explained in detail in a series of articles contained in a separate publication. This will be available upon request.

Breed Averages

The averages in table 1 are the mean of lactations within each breed between January 1960 and September 1974. Thus, the lactations are centered about 1967 or 1968.

Table 1.--Breed averages used for PD in this book on a 2X, 305-day, ME basis

Guernsey	9,291	4.73	439
Holstein	14,118	3.63	513

Weighting Projected Records

It has long been known that the accuracy of projecting a lactation record is proportional to the number of days in milk. This principle was used to weight lactations in this USDA-DHIA Sire Summary List according to the phenotypic correlation between 305-day records and shorter records. The phenotypic correlations for 2-year-old and for older cows are shown in table 2. As an example of their use, a projected record of 15 through 45 days' duration made by a 2-year-old cow would receive only 72 percent as much weight as a complete 305-day lactation.

Table 2.--Phenotypic correlations between records of 1 to 10 months' duration and 305-day lactations

Predicted Difference for Milk and Fat Yields

The measure of genetic transmitting ability for milk and for fat is the Predicted Difference (PD). This value is the expected average deviation of a bull's progeny from herdmates of the progeny in genetically breed average herds for the data from which the summaries were calculated. Another definition for PD is the expected extra production per daughter per year when compared with a zero PD bull.

Predicted Difference for Fat Percent

The measure of a bull's transmitting ability for fat percent is the PD for fat percent. It is the expected average deviation of a bull's progeny from herdmates of the the progeny in breed average herds.

It is computed as follows:

$$\text{PD fat \%} = \frac{(\text{PD for fat} + \text{breed avg. fat}) \times 100}{\text{PD for milk} + \text{breed avg. milk}} - \text{breed avg. fat \%.}$$

Predicted Difference for Income

Even though the transmitting abilities of bulls and cows have been, for the most part, evaluated separately on the basis of milk and fat yield, the economic value of the milk produced depends on both the quantity of milk and its milk solids content. At present in most milk-marketing areas of the United States, the total income from milk produced depends upon the bulk and the milk fat percentage. For this reason, an economic index has been added to each bull's summary to predict gross income in relation to breed average based on the bull's PD's for milk and fat. This economic value should help to simplify selection among bulls of the same breed. This economic index is based on gross income. Since the relationship between gross income and net income is quite high, selection based on the PD for total income should be effective for increasing net income as well.

PD for income permits the direct comparisons of individual bulls to breed average in the same manner as do PD's for milk and fat, based on the income expected from their daughters. The income values are computed from 2X, 305-day, ME production, the same as are PD's for milk and fat.

The formula for computing the PD for income for a specific bull is:

$$PD_{$} = (PD_m) \times (M_{$} - F_{$} \times B) + (PD_f) \times (F_{$})$$

where: $PD_{$}$ = The PD for income in dollars;

PD_m = The PD for milk in pounds;

PD_f = The PD for fat in pounds;

$M_{$}$ = The price paid for a unit of milk at the base test = $0.082/lb; 2/

2/ The average U.S. milk price for 1974 was $8.20/cwt for 3.5-percent milk, and the average fat differential was $0.080/0.1 percent/cwt. Source: Dairy Situation, Economic Research Service, USDA, DS-354. March 1975.

$F_$$ = The fat differential or the price paid for a unit of fat and other associated solids

= $0.80/lb; [2/] and

B = The base test

= 0.035. [2/]

The average 1974 U.S. prices for milk and fat were used to calculate the value of production for individual bulls. [2/]

Substitution of the 1974 U.S. average prices for milk and fat results in a formula that can be used to calculate $PD_$$ for any bull:

$$PD_$ = PD_m \times ($0.082/lb - $0.80/lb \times 0.035) + PD_f \times ($0.80/lb)$$

$$= PD_m \times ($0.082/lb - 0.028/lb) + PD_f \times ($0.80/lb)$$

$$= PD_m \times ($0.054/lb) + PD_f \times ($0.80/lb)$$

$$= 0.054\ PD_m + 0.80\ PD_f$$

Example:

Calculate the PD for dollar income for a bull having PD's of +1,000 for milk and +30 for fat.

$$PD_$ = 1{,}000\ lb \times ($0.054/lb) + 30\ lb \times ($0.80/lb)$$

$$= $54.00 + $24.00$$

$$= $78.00, \text{ rounded} = $78.00$$

PD's for income ($PD_$$) are shown in table 3 for various levels of PD milk and PD fat. These values are based on the 1974 U.S. average prices for milk and fat given on the preceding page.

A study in 1970 showed that evaluating bulls using average U.S. prices was a better predictor of economic value for other classes of milk such as manufacturing or Class I than individual PD's for milk or fat.

Very little information is available at present on the ability of individual bulls to transmit higher protein or solids-not-fat content. Such information will be incorporated into PD's for income at some later time when milk pricing is based on these components, and an evaluation on individual bulls for these traits becomes available.

Repeatability of Predicted Differences for Milk and Fat Yields

The accuracy with which the PD's for milk yield and fat yield will estimate a bull's transmitting ability for milk and fat relative to other bulls of that breed depends on the amount and distribution of information available on the bull's daughters, herdmates of the daughters, and the herdmates' sires. The details of calculating Repeatability in the MCC are given in the separate publication referred to on page ii.

Effective Daughters Per Herd

The term "effective daughers-per-herd" is an index of the distribution of daughters over herds in terms of the distribution's effect on the Repeatability of the sire summary. If each daughter were in a separate herd, which is the optimal distribution in terms of the Repeatability, or reliability, of the sire summary, the effective daughters per herd would be 1.0. Thus the lower the value for effective daughters-per-herd, the more reliable the proof, for a fixed number of progeny. The calculation of effective daughters-per-herd is based on the herd in which each daughter made her first record. The formula for the effective daughters-per-herd is:

$$1.0 + \frac{\Sigma n_i \ (n_i - 1)}{N}$$

Where: Σ indicates summation;

n_i is the number of daughters in the i^{th} herds; and

N is the total number of daughters in the summary.

When each daughter is not in a different herd, the effective-daughters-per-herd term indicates how they are distributed. For instance, assume that a bull has 25 progeny in 5 herds. They can be distributed in any manner from 5, 5, 5, 5, and 5, to 21, 1, 1, 1, and 1, but this is not shown by the number of daughters and herds. The effective daughters-per-herd in the first case is 5.0, that is, 5(5(4))/25 + 1.0, and in the second case is 17.8, that is, 21(20)/25 + 1.0. Any time the effective-daughters term deviates much from the average number of daughters-per-herd, most of the progeny are grouped in one or a few herds. Obviously, when a bull has many daughters in many herds, this parameter does not have much additional value for interpreting the sire summary. However, it is most useful when evaluating a bull on the basis of a relatively small number of daughters in a few herds.

Repeatability of Predicted Differences for Milk and Fat Yields

The accuracy with which the PD's for milk yield and fat yield will estimate a bull's transmitting ability for milk and fat relative to other bulls of that breed depends on the amount and distribution of information available on the bull's daughters, herdmates of the daughters, and the herdmates' sires. The details of calculating Repeatability in the MCC are given in the separate publication referred to on page ii.

Effective Daughters Per Herd

The term "effective daughers-per-herd" is an index of the distribution of daughters over herds in terms of the distribution's effect on the Repeatability of the sire summary. If each daughter were in a separate herd, which is the optimal distribution in terms of the Repeatability, or reliability, of the sire summary, the effective daughters per herd would be 1.0. Thus the lower the value for effective daughters-per-herd, the more reliable the proof, for a fixed number of progeny. The calculation of effective daughters-per-herd is based on the herd in which each daughter made her first record. The formula for the effective daughters-per-herd is:

$$1.0 + \frac{\Sigma n_i \ (n_i - 1)}{N}$$

Where: Σ indicates summation;

n_i is the number of daughters in the i^{th} herds; and

N is the total number of daughters in the summary.

When each daughter is not in a different herd, the effective-daughters-per-herd term indicates how they are distributed. For instance, assume that a bull has 25 progeny in 5 herds. They can be distributed in any manner from 5, 5, 5, 5, and 5, to 21, 1, 1, 1, and 1, but this is not shown by the number of daughters and herds. The effective daughters-per-herd in the first case is 5.0, that is, 5(5(4))/25 + 1.0, and in the second case is 17.8, that is, 21(20)/25 + 1.0. Any time the effective-daughters term deviates much from the average number of daughters-per-herd, most of the progeny are grouped in one or a few herds. Obviously, when a bull has many daughters in many herds, this parameter does not have much additional value for interpreting the sire summary. However, it is most useful when evaluating a bull on the basis of a relatively small number of daughters in a few herds.

INTERPRETATION OF SIRE SUMMARIES

Predicted Difference for Milk, Predicted Difference for Fat, and Repeatability

The PD's are the best available estimates of a bull's transmitting ability for milk and fat. Transmitting ability is defined as one-half of the breeding value. Breeding value, therefore, is measured on the basis of an animal's complete genotype, whereas transmitting ability is a measure of the average worth of a random one-half of the genotype that is present in a sperm or an egg. (USDA-DHIA Cow Indexes are also expressed in terms of transmitting ability.)

The Repeatability value is an index of reliability that tells how sure we are that the PD's for milk and fat reflect an individual bull's true transmitting ability. A confidence interval indicating the likelihood that the bull's true transmitting ability will fall within these limits can be set about each bull's PD. It does not insure that any specific bull's transmitting ability lies within these confidence limits. The greater the Repeatability value, or confidence factor of a summary, the greater the chance that the PD is close to the true transmitting ability of the bull for milk and fat yield. The 60- and 80-percent confidence intervals that can be placed about the PD's for individual bulls of various breeds are given in table 4. Repeatability also indicates that a given proportion of all bulls that have a specific PD and Repeatability will have transmitting abilities that fall within these limits.

The confidence interval on any bull in this publication can be located in this table. Suppose the bull of interest is a Holstein bull with a PD of +800 pounds for milk and a Repeatability of 70 percent. The 80-percent confidence interval on this PD is ±386. This means there is an 80-percent likelihood that this bull will have a true transmitting ability between +414 and +1,186 pounds. It does not insure with absolute certainty that this bull's transmitting ability lies within this confidence limit, but the odds are 4 to 1 that it does.

This can be illustrated another way by saying that for every ten Holstein bulls whose PD for milk is +800 and Repeatability is 70 percent, eight will have true transmitting abilities between +414 and +1,186, and one each will be above and below this interval.

The choice between two bulls with similar PD's involves less gamble when the bull with the higher Repeatability value is selected. However, one would keep in mind that PD, not Repeatability, determines genetic progress in the long run. Also, because of the sampling nature of inheritance, any one daughter of a bull may deviate widely from the level of performance that would be expected based on her sire's PD. Therefore, a bull's transmitting ability should not be judged from either a single daughter or even very few daughters.

Repeatability values have also been used to construct tables that show the probabilities that bulls with given PD's are above breed average in transmitting ability. These tables are given in the April 1968 Dairy Herd Improvement Letter, ARS 44-202, pages 22 and 23.

Tables that show probabilities that one bull is superior to another for various PD's and Repeatabilities are given in the December 1968 Dairy Herd Improvement Letter, ARS 44-207, pages 9, 10, and 11.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION ON THE SIRE SUMMARIES

Situations occasionally arise that can cause a PD to be an inaccurate estimate of a bull's transmitting ability. Some of these are:

(1) Preferential treatment of daughters over their herdmates.
(2) Daughters of only one or a very few bulls represented among the herdmates.
(3) None or only a few herdmates of the same age as the daughters of the bull.
(4) A selected sample of the bull's daughters is available for the summary.

Even though the MCC was designed to help minimize these problems, it will never be possible to eliminate them entirely. These situations are most likely to occur among bulls with low Repeatabilities (17 to 40 percent), although they can occur sometimes in bulls with moderate Repeatabilities (41 to 70 percent). For these reasons, dairymen are cautioned against breeding a large part of their herd to any single low-Repeatability bull.

For "% First Records Culled" the figure printed is the percent of the first lactations with calving dates 365 days before the data was submitted with USDA-DHIA termination codes 3 through 7, representing the proportion of cows culled in their first lactation. Double asterisks () are printed instead when less than 50 percent of the daughters' first records present were first lactations. Triple asterisks () are printed instead of the percent if less than 10 first-lactation daughters have exceeded 365 days from calving date. Printing this figure if only one or a few daughters were used in the calculation not only would be of very little value, but also could be quite misleading.

The format of the sire summaries is explained in figure 1. The location and meaning of each item of data are given.

When a bull is, or has been, in an AI stud, the USDA-DHIA Sire Summary List shows the sire's AI stud number, or the last organization that owned him. The list of AI organizations that have operated in the United States in recent years is shown in table 5. This list has been compiled from reports received by the Animal Improvement Programs Laboratory, ARS. Some organizations listed in table 5 may no longer exist, but are referred to because the sires that they owned are summarized. An asterisk (*) preceding the name of an AI organization indicates that the organization reported to USDA the ownership on control of individual bulls on January 1, 1975.

A list of extension dairymen advising on dairy cattle breeding programs in each State is given on page xiv.
